Exclusion of liability and condition of use

You agree as a condition of your use of this website that Tasmanian Irrigation will not be liable for any loss (including but not limited to personal injury, death, damage to or loss of property, damage to your computer or loss of data stored on it, consequential loss or loss of profit or business opportunity) arising in any way from your use of this website, and whether any such loss arises from our breach of any contract or implied contract, negligence or other tort or wilful act. This clause applies to the extent permissible by law and no attempt is made by Tasmanian Irrigation to exclude or modify liability that is imposed by statute and which may not be excluded or modified. The proper law of this website is the law of Tasmania and by entering this website you agree with this choice of law.

Always check the information

The information published by Tasmanian Irrigation on this website is considered to be true and accurate at the time of publication. Whilst all due skill and care has been taken in collecting, validating and providing information, Tasmanian Irrigation shall not be liable in any way for loss of any kind including damages, costs, interest, loss of profits or special loss or damage, arising from any error, inaccuracy, incompleteness or other defect in this information.

Privacy

We respect and strive to protect your privacy.

We adhere to the principles of the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 (Tasmania).

The types of personal information collected include property ownership, occupancy details, contract and billing details, names and addresses (residential, business and email.), telephone numbers, banking details, account status, and customer indebtedness.

Tasmanian Irrigation endeavours to ensure all information it holds is accurate, complete and up to date. Where practicable, the accuracy of personal information held will be checked before it is used.

We will not pass any personal data on to third parties, other than to comply with a legal requirement or in exceptional circumstances to protect individuals from harm or injury.

Before, during, or as soon as practicable after the collection of personal information all reasonable steps necessary are taken to ensure that individuals are aware of the following:

- its identity and how to contact us
- the individual's right of access to the information
- the purposes for which the information is collected
- the intended recipients or class of recipients of the information
- any law that requires the information to be collected
